"Leonard Hamilton has a program at Florida State. He doesn't have a team. It's built on great kids, a lot of kids, and playing good defense. They accept their roles and they play so hard. Because they can play good defense, they'll have a shot at anybody. We had a real difficult time winning tonight. There were a number of guys deserving of coach of the year, and I'm not knocking Tony (Bennett of Virginia) because his team is so good, but what Leonard did being 1-4 (in ACC play) and (now) being 27-7- you've got to be kidding me. To keep his team together and go through the ACC to finish fourth; outstanding, outstanding job."

From The Beginning, FSU's Mfiondu Kabengele Proved He Would Put In The Work To Be Good

By Tashan Reed

The Athletic

March 20, 2019

Just to make it to practice each day, Mfiondu Kabengele had to take a bus from his home in Burlington, Ontario, then walk more than two miles to get to the International Basketball and Sports Academy training facility in Hamilton.

He'd just joined the program as a seventh-grader along with Nikola Djogo, now a guard at Notre Dame, and several other boys, so he wasn't too familiar with the expectations of Zelmir Stevanovic, the IBSA founder and president.

When Kabengele started goofing off one summer afternoon in 2010, the "military strict" Serbian made it clear no slack would be given for Kabengele's sacrifice just to make it to the gym.

"Get your ass out of here," Stevanovic told Kabengele, sending him on the two-mile walk back to the bus station in the midday sun.

"I'm thinking to myself, 'He's going to quit,'" Stevanovic recalls now. "The next day, he's there, and the day after that and the day after that. He never quit. He never, ever quit."

Kabengele would remain with the IBSA all the way through his time at Burlington's Corpus Christi High, but the notion of Kabengele's present, a redshirt sophomore who is among Florida State's more important pieces as it prepares for the NCAA Tournament, seemed out of reach. During his sophomore year of high school, he was still a 6-foot-2 guard who lacked speed and drew little interest.

"Everyone was like, 'Oh, my God, this guy's not gonna grow,'" Stevanovic says. "I'm like, 'He's gonna grow. I guarantee you. Just wait.'"

By the end of his junior year, Kabengele was 6-foot-6, the first in a series of growth spurts that now have him listed at 6-foot-10. But the first spurt was so sudden that his knees and joints started to hurt. He grew another inch before his senior year. His game, though, was slow to keep up with his body.

When he graduated in 2015, Kabengele held no Division I offers. That summer he played grassroots basketball for the first time with Canada Drive, but he still only drew interest from a couple of small schools. Stevanovic worked his connections and got in touch with Dave Maravilla, the founder of the Don Bosco Institute, a prep school in Crown Point, Ind.

Maravilla was a sports agent for 23 years before he created the program in 2013 with the goal of helping under-the-radar prospects get to college. While he was in Canada to see another player, he got a look at Kabengele.

"His body was in shambles," Maravilla says. "He looked like a baby giraffe when I first saw him. He just was all arms and legs, but he was skilled and was a reasonably good athlete. Certainly, nobody saw him evolving into what he is today."

As No. 10 Florida State (27-7) prepares to face Vermont (27-6) in the first round of the NCAA Tournament on Thursday and looks to at least repeat last year's run to the Elite Eight, much will be asked of Kabengele. He leads the Seminoles with 12.9 points per game, earned ACC Sixth Man of the Year honors and was named to the all-ACC tournament team after FSU's championship game loss to Duke.

Kabengele's immediate focus will be on the 'Noles attempt to make another deep tournament push, but the 6-foot-10, 250-pound forward's name has begun to draw some NBA buzz. His uncle, Dikembe Mutombo, had a Hall of Fame career, and he intends to follow in his footsteps.

"I understand what it takes to be there," Kabengele says, "and I got a lot of room to grow. My ultimate goal is to be a pro in the NBA and potentially be a great player there."

While what lies ahead for Kabengele is uncertain, his story is already a gratifying one worth being proud of.

In its short lifespan, the Bosco Institute has been immensely successful. It has produced 30 D-I athletes, and only one of those players held a D-I offer when he arrived on campus.

"We're getting kids that nobody wanted," Maravilla says. "They have deficiencies. In (Kabengele's) case, he was a late bloomer. What I thought would be a good mid-major type kid turned out to be much higher based on a lot of things. He was a kid that, in Canada, nobody even paid attention to. Nobody wanted him."

Kabengele, who arrived on campus at 6-foot-7 and 205 pounds, was determined to prove he belonged on a college basketball roster, no matter the level. So when the recruiting period began in September 2015 and Binghamton coach Tommy Dempsey visited to offer a scholarship, Kabengele was ready to accept and leave on the spot.

"He was ready to go," Maravilla says with a laugh. "I said, 'Listen, I understand you're going to play a lot there, but you came all the way down here for the sole purpose of developing. I think you're going to develop and get a lot better in two to three months than you are right now. Just have a little patience, and let's just see how this thing plays out.' Obviously, he developed, and it was probably a good idea he didn't commit to Binghamton."

In October, the Bosco Institute scrimmaged La Lumiere, which featured highly touted four-star forward Jeremiah Tilmon.

"Everybody was in the gym," Maravilla says. "I'm talking there's a smorgasbord of high-major coaches. (Tilmon's) the flavor of the day, he's going to Illinois (Tilmon ended up at Missouri), he's one-and-done. I'm hearing all of it, and Fi's out there balling, quietly."

Kabengele went at Tilmon and competed without hesitation. While Tilmon played bully ball, Kabengele took him outside, drove to the rim from the perimeter, drew fouls and made a few 3s.

"He was intriguing, but people were just so locked in on Jeremiah Tilmon that they couldn't even see what was right in front of their eyes," Maravilla says. "At that moment, I said, 'This kid has got it.' Because he didn't even care who Jeremiah Tilmon was. He probably didn't even know who he was anyway. But everybody else knew who he was, and Fi just was doing work. He wasn't even close to what he was going to be three months later. He was competitive, and he was not afraid."

"Until you see that in a kid, you really don't know what he's made of."

The Bosco experience was Kabengele's first time out of his comfort zone, and although the recruiting attention didn't follow immediately, he continued to work as the staff pushed him to his limits.

Not every day was a good one. Kabengele had to grow out of his immaturity and learn how to compete every time he stepped on the court. He fought through it and developed his skill set, and while growing another two inches was out of his control and surely helped, he got to 230 pounds thanks to a regular workout routine.

Florida State assistant coach Dennis Gates was the first one to see this new version of Kabengele, in December '15.

He offered him on the spot.

“Coach Gates just saw what I was and what I could be and had so much trust in me to point where he just offered me without Coach (Leonard Hamilton) having ever seen me,” Kabengele says. “With that kind of trust between the coaching staff, I knew I was going to be in good hands.”

Kabengele elevated his game from there and became the best player on the team, averaging 19 points and 10 rebounds on 53 percent shooting.

“He took his game to another level to the point where by the end of the year he was our most dominant player,” Maravilla says. “That wasn’t the case at first. He might have been our third- or fourth-best player at the beginning of the year. It took him some time, but once he was able to establish some consistency in his work habits and understand what it took to play at the ACC level, then I think that’s when you started to really see progress in his game.”

Plenty of other schools flooded in over the next few months. Wisconsin, Georgetown, Kansas State, Georgia and Boston College would all extend offers. Instead of jumping to a decision as he almost did when he first arrived at Bosco, however, Kabengele weighed his options.

Similar to when he decided to attend Bosco, Kabengele sought guidance from Stevanovic. Back when he played at Gulf Coast Community College and before he transferred to Pitt, Stevanovic was recruited by Hamilton and FSU assistant Stan Jones when both were at Miami.

“I’ve known Leonard Hamilton and Stan Jones for like 20 years now,” Stevanovic says. “I respect Coach Hamilton a ton. I love Stan too. For me, as I told Mfiondu, these are the guys I’ve known since I was a teenager. That was kind of an easy transition for Mfiondu to go down there, and they’ve done an awesome job with him.”

Kabengele committed to Florida State in March 2016, signed in April and enrolled in June. While he’d shown plenty of promise at the Bosco Institute, the intention was never for him to play right away.

The 2016-17 Seminoles had a mix of savvy veterans, including Michael Ojo, Marquez Smith and Xavier Rathan-Mayes, along with talented underclassmen and future NBA players Dwyane Bacon and Jonathan Isaac. There was no immediate need for Kabengele to play, and he redshirted. Instead of sulking, he took it as an opportunity to learn.

“My redshirt year, it was just more about the ins and outs of the game: how to have a good work ethic and what it takes to play at a high level,” Kabengele says. “(There were) a lot of great, talented players. I knew that my game wasn’t there yet. To see them and how they developed and how they honed their skills and how they played, I was able to get a good experience.”

When his redshirt was lifted the following year, he was excited yet nervous. “It was my first time playing and I was super anxious,” Kabengele says. “I had a lot of energy, and the coaches told me, ‘Just rebound and you’ll stay on the court.’ That was my main focus: to rebound, be a good pick-and-roll player, set good screens and just get out in transition and be the best big I could be.”

Kabengele averaged 7.2 points, 4.6 rebounds and 0.9 blocks while shooting 49.1 percent from the field and 38.5 percent from 3. He was a key reserve as the Seminoles made it to the Elite Eight before falling to Michigan.

Last summer, Kabengele worked to refine his game. He credits his breakout season to having better rhythm, learning how to avoid foul trouble and understanding more nuances of the game.

He is the only player from a power-conference program to lead his team in scoring while coming off the bench. He scored in double figures in 22 games and had 22 points or more four times.

As his profile has risen, more NBA scouts have come to see him play. To most, his rise has seemingly come out of nowhere. But for a select few, they saw it coming long before FSU even seemed like a realistic option.

"I honestly always thought — after playing professional basketball for like 20 years myself and seeing what it takes it to be a professional in this world — if anybody has the mindset, he does," Stevanovic says. "He has the ultimate confidence. A lot of these NBA guys, they'll talk to me and they'll call me and they want to discuss things like how much he produces in such a short period of time.

"That doesn't surprise me at all because he's been one of the most confident people in his own ability since he was 10 years old. He has that one thing I think all the NBA guys, at least the successful ones, do have: no conscience. To me, after 40 years of doing this, that's key."

Notwithstanding what happens in the NCAA Tournament, Kabengele has a tough decision ahead of him. He could declare for the June NBA Draft or return to Florida State in order to continue developing and improve his stock.

Kabengele is mobile and has pretty good bounce, but there are concerns over whether he is ready to play heavy minutes. (He is averaging 21.1 minutes this season.) It would serve him well to return to school, continue to tone up and improve his conditioning, then show he's capable of replicating his success with starter's minutes next season.

"He's such a talented guy and it's all just his natural skill right now," Vecenie says. "He had touch, but he's stepping out to 3 now pretty consistently. Obviously, he's physical and he can carve out position and do a great job on the glass. I think of him more as like a small-ball center at the next level as opposed to being a 4. He's kind of in between positions there.

"Is he going to be good enough as a rim protector to play center at the next level? I think that's one thing he really needs to work on. In terms of his offensive game, I think he could probably stand to improve as a ball handler a little bit. If you're going to play as a small-ball center at the next level, you need to be able to run dribble handoffs, and you need to be able to run some actions where you put the ball on the deck a couple of times away from the hoop. He has a little bit of that to the point where I think he could get to that level, but I don't know if he's quite there yet."

Kabengele's high motor and ability to switch onto smaller forwards and guards on the perimeter are two other aspects that have impressed scouts and would make him a good fit as a modern center. With additional polish and another step forward, he could go from a fringe second-round prospect in 2019 to a first-rounder in 2020.

While Kabengele will consider all of this in the coming months, he isn't getting too ahead of himself.

"Does he have NBA upside?" Maravilla says. "Of course, he does. A blind man could see that. But is he there yet? How many guys are ready these days? He's probably more ready than a lot of guys, but I don't think there's any real conclusion as to what or when anything's going to happen with him. I think that's a decision he and his family are going to make at the right time. Right now is not the right time.

"Right now is about Florida State and making a run in the tournament and duplicating what they did last year, and they have a good enough team to do so. I think he's got everything in perspective. He's not talked about it, his family's not talked about it. It's really more, 'Let's just focus on being really good.' "

Exhibition 1 – Florida State 96, West Florida 56

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. – As basketball season officially tipped-off in Tallahassee, Florida State breezed past West Florida 96-56 in its first exhibition of the year. The Seminoles wasted little time jumping out to a big lead over the visiting Argonauts and led 11-3 with 16:34 left in the first half after a PJ Savoy triple. A pair Christ Koumadje free throws built the Florida State lead to double digits at 25-12 with 9:30 left in the half. Koumadje had a strong game and finished the night with 20 points, eight rebounds, and four blocks as his size was far too much for the Argonauts to handle inside. Trent Forrest had a big night driving to the rim, using his trademarked ability to finish through contact to extend the lead to 28-16 with 8:01 left in the half. The Seminoles got into transition all contest with 28 points off turnovers during the game. A Devin Vassell steal and lay-in gave FSU a 33-16 lead with 6:30 left in the half. Against West Florida, FSU forced 19 turnovers with eight steals and five blocks.

Exhibition 2 – Florida State 99, Valdosta State 77

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. – Florida State defeated Valdosta State, 99-77, in its second and final exhibition game to open the 2018-19 season. Redshirt freshman RaiQuan Gray scored the first seven points of the game for the Seminoles on a pair of smooth driving lay-ins and a three-point bomb from the wing. A quick 7-0 run gave FSU a 21-13 lead at the 12:06 mark after a short jumper from freshman Devin Vassell. Later in the half an 8-0 run, spurred by strong defense and attacking the basket, gave the Seminoles a 29-16 lead with 9:22 left. Trent Forrest's driving and-one lay-up capped the run for Florida State. On the night, the Seminoles scored 64 points in the paint. A Christ Koumadje dunk with 2:26 left before the break gave FSU its largest lead of the half at 45-26 and the Seminoles went into the locker room at halftime leading 47-35. The Seminoles shot 62 percent from the floor (40-65) on the night, including 7 of 16 from beyond the arc. Forrest led FSU with 15 points, six rebounds, and five assists in the win.

Game 2 – Florida State 80, Tulane 69

NEW ORLEANS, La. – Terance Mann scored 21 points and 10 rebounds, PJ Savoy added 14 points and No. 17 Florida State wore down a feisty and apparently improved Tulane squad, 80-69 in Tulane's cozy Devlin Fieldhouse. Tulane was buoyed by the debut of freshman Kevin Zhang, who had 24 points, including 10 during a second-half surge that briefly pulled the Green Wave as close as 62-56. Christ Koumadje's dunk sparked a 10-0 Seminoles run that included layups by Mann and Trent Forrest, and FSU maintained a double-digit lead for most of the final seven minutes. Trent Forrest finished with 13 points and Mfioundu Kabengele scored 12 for Florida State (2-0), which shot 48.3 percent (29 of 60). Samir Sehic scored 19 points for Tulane (0-1), but took only four shots in the second half and missed all of them.

Game 4 -- Florida State 81, UAB 63

LAKE BUENA VISTA, Fla. -- Bolstered by a 5-for-5 night from the field and a 6-of-7 effort at the free-throw line, guard Terance Mann scored a game-high 17 points to lead Florida State past UAB, 81-63, to earn a spot in the semifinals of the AdvoCare Invitational. The Seminoles relied upon their signature stingy defense to blow past the Blazers, holding UAB to 19 of 58 from the field (33 percent) and 2-14 (14 percent) from the 3-point line. Both marks were a season-bests for the Seminoles, and their two 3-point shots allowed were the least by an FSU team since Fordham made just one on Nov. 17, 2018. After a slow start that saw scoreless basketball for the first 2:30, FSU senior P.J. Savoy found his stride, connecting on back-to-back 3-point baskets to earn the game's first points. With the game tied 8-8 five minutes into the first half, senior Christ Koumadje catapulted an 11-1 run that held UAB without a field goal for 6:18. Off an inbound lob, Koumadje threw down a heavy dunk that put the Noles up 14-11. A few possessions later, he had yet another slam that extended the lead to five. Koumadje used his size and strength to dominate the paint all night. He finished with 12 points, a career-high tying nine rebounds and three blocks. His three blocks put him at 100 blocks for his career. Florida State ran through the first half off of a balanced scoring attack that saw nine different Seminoles score at least one basket. Fresh off a 10-point showing against Canisius, freshman Devin Vassell hit a corner 3-point shot to put FSU up 27-15 at the 7:01 mark.

Game 5 -- Florida State 79, LSU 76 (OT)

LAKE BUENA VISTA, Fla. -- Mfiondu Kabengele hit a deep 3-point jumper with a half-second left in overtime, and No. 14 Florida State advanced to the AdvoCare Invitational championship game with a 79-76 win over No. 19 LSU. Tremont Waters made three free throws to pull LSU even at 76 with 11.5 seconds to go in overtime before Kabengele's shot bounced off the rim and into the basket. "It just dropped right in and I was in shock," said Kabengele. "I'm just happy it went in." After trailing by nine, Florida State forced overtime when Trent Forrest tied it at 68-68 on a layup with 2.8 seconds left. Naz Reid's 3-pointer at the buzzer hit off the rim for LSU, who got 19 points from Skylar Mays. Reid hit a 3 and Emmitt Williams had a fast-break dunk as LSU went up 59-52 with 7 1/2 minutes left. Reid, slowed recently by an ankle injury, scored 12 points in 41 minutes. M.J. Walker had 13 of his game-high 21 points during the first half as Florida State took a 30-29 lead at the break.

Game 10 -- Florida State 85, Southeast Missouri 68

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. -- Trent Forrest scored a career-high 23 points and freshman Devin Vassell added 16 points as No. 11 Florida State overcame a sluggish first half and beat Southeast Missouri 85-68. Florida State secured its 30th straight non-conference home win. Nebraska is the last non-conference team to defeat the Seminoles, 70-65 on Dec. 1, 2014. Ledarius Brewer scored 16 points and Skyler Hogan added 14 points, knocking down four 3-pointers, for Southeast Missouri. Christ Koumadje added seven rebounds as Florida State outrebounded the undersized Redhawks 46-28. The Seminoles shot 50 percent (31 for 62). They were just 1 for 12 on 3-pointers in the first half before finishing 6 for 24. Southeast Missouri shot 25 of 59 (42.4 percent) from the floor. The Redhawks made 14 3-pointers but couldn't withstand Florida State's second-half run. Senior forward Phil Cofer, who led the team by averaging 12.8 points last season, returned to the court against SEMO after missing Florida State's first nine games with a foot injury. Cofer played five minutes in the first half, going 0 for 4 from the floor.

The Seminoles won their sixth game in a row and matched the best 12-game start in school history. Nichols led the Seminoles from beyond the arc by going 4 for 7. Saint Louis suffered its most lopsided loss of the season. The Billikens shot only 30 percent -- their season low, and the best effort yet by Florida State's defense. Nichols helped the Seminoles' bench outscore Saint Louis' reserves 43-13. Forward Phil Cofer, who missed Florida State's first nine games with a foot injury, had seven points in 17 minutes.

Game 16 -- Duke 80, Florida State 78

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. -- Cam Reddish hit a 3-pointer with 0.8 seconds left to lead No. 1 Duke past No. 13 Florida State, 80-78. Reddish caught the ball on the wing off the inbound pass and made a wide-open 3-pointer to ensure that Duke would win its ninth straight game. Two freshmen carried the load for Duke as RJ Barrett scored 32 points on 10 of 19 shooting and Reddish finished with 23 points on 9 of 15 shooting. Florida State's P.J. Savoy made a pair of free throws with 15.8 seconds left, just seconds after forcing a turnover, to put Florida State ahead 78-76. Barrett, who had 19 second-half points, then hit the first of two free throws with five seconds left. He missed the second, but the Blue Devils retained possession after a review overruled a call on the floor that the ball had gone out of bounds of a Duke player setting up Reddish's shot. Mfiondu Kabengele came off the bench to record his third career double-double, tying a career-high with 24 points and 10 rebounds for Florida State. Phil Cofer made five 3-pointers and had a season-high 21 points.

Game 19 -- Florida State 77, Clemson 68

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. -- Mfondu Kabengele scored 12 of his 17 points in the second half and David Nichols added 16 points as Florida State halted a three-game slide with a 77-68 win over Clemson. Nichols made four 3-pointers for the Seminoles. Florida State came into the game shooting 31.3 percent from beyond the 3-point arc but made 10 3-pointers against Clemson. After it trailed for most of the game, Florida State used a 13-0 run to take a 63-55 lead with 6:50 left. The run was sparked by consecutive 3-pointers from RaiQuan Gray, Devin Vassell and Nichols and the Seminoles were in control the rest of the way. Aamir Simms scored 15 of his 18 points in the first half for Clemson which has lost four of its last five games. Elijah Thomas also had 17 points and 11 rebounds, his fifth double-double of the season.

Game 25 -- Florida State 69, Georgia Tech 47

ATLANTA, Ga. -- Christ Koumadje had 10 points and 12 rebounds as the Seminoles tied a school record with their seventh straight ACC win, 69-47, over Georgia Tech. Freshman Devin Vassell came off the bench to score a team-high 11 while playing in his hometown for the Seminoles. Seven Florida State players scored between seven and 11 points. Georgia Tech lost its seventh straight ACC game with another offensive struggle. Jose Alvarado broke out of a lengthy slump with 17 points, but the Yellow Jackets made just 8 of 36 shots from inside the 3-point arc. They're averaging 53.1 points in their skid after their seventh and eighth halves scoring 25 or fewer points. The 7-foot-4 Koumadje took just seven shots, making five. He was even more of a factor on the defensive end as he blocked three shots as Tech made just 6 of 28 in the paint. The Jackets' big men, James Banks III (two points) and Abdoulaye Gueye (five) made a combined 3 of 16 field goals. The teams were tied at 10 early before the Jackets fell into the first of multiple shooting freezes, and Florida State stretched the lead to 31-15 on a layup by Terance Mann with 4:27 left. Phil Cofer, David Nichols and Vassell each a pair of 3-pointers in the first half for FSU before Banks finally got loose for a dunk shortly before halftime to pull Tech within 34-23. The first time the Seminoles put together a seven-game ACC winning streak, in the 2011-12 season, they went on to win the ACC Tournament. This also cemented a fourth consecutive season with 20 or more wins overall, matching a run from 2009-12 that also was under Hamilton.

Game 26 -- Florida State 77, Clemson 64

CLEMSON, S.C. -- Mfondu Kabengele had 19 points and 11 rebounds, and Florida State set a program record with its eighth consecutive Atlantic Coast Conference victory in a 77-64 win over the Tigers. Florida State used its size, strength and speed to keep the run going against the Tigers, holding on after seeing an 18-point edge cut to 59-52 with eight minutes left. That's as close as Clemson would get in dropping its third in a row and getting swept by Florida State for the second time in three seasons. Kabengele led the way on both sides of the ball. He hit 9 of 13 from the field, blocked two shots, and his rebounds were a season high. Then again, Clemson had trouble stopping much of anything Florida State did around the basket. The Seminoles' starting center in 7-foot-4 Christ Koumadje went 4-of-6 shooting for 10 points with seven rebounds and a pair of blocks. The Seminoles took control after Clemson closed to 23-21 on Marcquise Reed's 3-pointer with 6:18 left in the half. Florida State then went on a 15-2 surge the rest of the half with Kabengele hitting three buckets and Walker landing a 3-pointer. When Trent Forrest got his off-balance push shot on a drive to the basket to go right before the buzzer sounded, Florida State went to the locker room ahead 38-23. The lead grew as large as 18. Forrest finished with 14 points. Reed had 20 points to lead Clemson.

Game 28 -- Florida State 68, Notre Dame 61

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. -- Devin Vassell scored 13 points, sparking Florida State's second-half charge with a dunk and a 3-pointer on consecutive possessions, and the 18th-ranked Seminoles defeated Notre Dame 68-61. Florida State trailed for most of the second half but took a 57-55 lead with 6:35 to go after Vassell dunked and made a 3-pointer on back-to-back possessions. Notre Dame was able to tie the game but never led after that. The Seminoles have had nine players lead the team in scoring this season. The bench has been critical nearly every night, with Florida State's reserves scoring 31 points against Notre Dame. Trent Forrest made 4 of 6 free-throw attempts in the final minute to help the Seminoles win the game. Christ Koumadje added 12 points, the fourth time in the last five games he has scored in double figures. D.J. Harvey scored 18 points and Prentiss Hubb had 17 for Notre Dame which has dropped four straight games. The Fighting Irish went scoreless for nearly five minutes late in the game and made just one of their final 10 field-goal attempts.

Game 29 -- Florida State 78, NC State 73

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. -- Mfiondu Kabengele scored 16 points, Trent Forrest added 11 of his 13 points in the second half and the No. 18 Seminoles defeated NC State 78-73. Forrest was quiet early but drove to the basket with ease in the second half, helping Florida State gain its 23rd win. He shot 5 of 10 from the floor with a team-leading six rebounds, three assists and two steals. The Wolfpack gave the Seminoles some adversity to deal with. While Florida State never trailed, NC State kept clawing back and had a chance to win in the final minute. Devon Daniels blocked Kabengele and Torin Dorn grabbed it with 24 seconds left and the Seminoles leading 76-73. After a timeout, Braxton Beverly dribbled the ball beyond the 3-point arc but was fouled. He missed the front end of a 1-and-1, and Kabengele rebounded. He was quickly fouled, making two free-throw attempts to seal it. M.J. Walker scored 11 of his 15 points in the first half, putting him in double figures for the first time since Feb. 9. Kabengele shot 7 of 8 from the free-throw line while adding five rebounds and four of the Seminoles' season-high nine blocks. It was the 19th time in 29 games he has scored in double figures, with all of them coming as a reserve. The Wolfpack shot just 26.7 percent (8 of 30) in the first half but hit 55.2 percent (16 of 29) in the second half. NC State stayed in the game behind consistent 3-point shooting, making 47.4 percent (9 of 19).

Game 30 -- Florida State 73, Virginia Tech 64 (OT)

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. -- M.J. Walker scored nine of his 11 points after halftime, including a critical 3-pointer in overtime, and Florida State rallied to top No. 15 Virginia Tech 73-64. Mfiondu Kabengele scored 13 of his 17 points in the second half and overtime, while Terance Mann added 14 points as Florida State improved to 15-1 at home this season and tied the program record with 12 Atlantic Coast Conference wins. The Seminoles rallied after trailing 35-22 with 18:08 left in regulation. Six minutes later, Florida State tied the game and Mann's 3-pointer with 11:26 remaining put the Seminoles ahead. Virginia Tech was short-handed playing without guard Justin Robinson (foot) and forward Kerry Blackshear (fouled out), but the Hokies kept the game close. Ahmed Hill hit a 3-pointer with 14 seconds left in regulation to tie the game at 61. After a timeout, Mann missed a 3-pointer at the buzzer and the teams went to overtime. Florida State outscored Virginia Tech 12-3 in the extra period, making seven of eight free-throw attempts as the Seminoles improved to 3-0 in overtime games this season. They shot 86.4 percent (19 of 22) from the free-throw line for the game. With the win, Florida State clinched the No. 4 seed in next week's conference tournament and a double bye. Virginia Tech is locked into the No. 5 seed.

Game 31 -- Florida State 65, Wake Forest 57

WINSTON-SALEM, N.C. -- No. 14 Florida State staged a second-half surge -- 18 straight points -- and took a 65-57 victory over Wake Forest. Florida State won for the 12th time in 13 games to finish fourth in conference. The Seminoles never led until grabbing the lead at 47-45 on Trent Forrest's basket with 7:28 left. Phil Cofer followed with an easy basket, then M.J. Walker supplied the knockout with a 3-pointer. The Deacons frequently switched defenses, making it hard for the Seminoles to get the ball inside to 7-foot-4 Christ Koumadje and 6-10 Mfiondu Kabengele. Forrest led a balanced FSU attack -- 11 players scored -- with 11 points. Koumadje had 8 points and 10 rebounds. After a cold-shooting first half by both teams, FSU shot 54 percent in the second half. Brandon Childress, who scored three baskets to spark the Deacons to their early 12-point lead, finished with 13 points and Chaundee Brown added 11 -- all in the first half. The Deacons, who shot just 26 percent, went scoreless for nearly six minutes as the Seminoles erased a 45-40 deficit with their 18-0 run. Wake Forest was 16 of 16 from the foul line en route to a 31-24 halftime lead as both teams struggled from the field. But the Deacons made only 6 of 13 from the line in the second half.

Game 33 -- Florida State 69, Virginia 59

CHARLOTTE, N.C. -- David Nichols scored 14 points to lead Florida State to the championship game of the Atlantic Coast Conference Tournament for the first time since 2012 as the Seminoles defeated top-seeded and No 2 ranked Virginia, 69-59, at the Spectrum Center. Phil Cofer had 11 points and 7-foot-4 center Christ Koumadje added nine points and nine rebounds for the Seminoles. De'Andre Hunter had 13 points for Virginia, which had its nine-game winning streak snapped and suffered its first loss to a team other than Duke. Florida State was in control from the start. The Seminoles built a 35-31 at halftime behind the inside play of Koumadje, who had seven points and nine rebounds in the first half after registering just two points and two rebounds in a 65-52 loss to Virginia earlier this season. Florida State broke open the game midway through the second half with a 13-1 run led by Nichols, a graduate transfer who scored on a drive, a low post move, and a turnaround jumper during the stretch. While Nichols was heating up, the Cavaliers couldn't score, going nearly 6 1/2 minutes without a field goal.

Game 35 -- Florida State 76, Vermont 69

HARTFORD, Conn. -- Mfondu Kabengele had 21 points and 10 rebounds, and Florida State withstood a barrage of 3-pointers from 13th-seeded Vermont in a 76-69 victory in the opening round of the NCAA West Regional. Terance Mann added 19 points for the fourth-seeded Seminoles, who were tied with the Catamounts at halftime but pulled away late. Anthony Lamb had 16 points to lead a balanced, long-range attack for Vermont, which lost for the first time in seven games. Three Catamounts -- Stef Smith, Ernie Duncan and Ben Shungu -- each finished with 15 points. A dunk by Kabengele gave Florida State a 50-45 lead with nine minutes left, part of a 6-0 run that put the Seminoles ahead for good. Another by the 6-10 sophomore made it 61-53, and the cheers of Vermont fans, who made the four-hour drive south from Burlington, gave way to the tomahawk chop from behind Florida State's bench. Florida State led by 12 with just over a minute left and withstood a late run by Vermont. Vermont, which outrebounded Florida State 20-18 in the first half, was outmuscled underneath and lost the rebounding battle 21-13 in the second.
