

Florida State vs. South Alabama
Saturday, Nov. 16

Mark Krikorian

On switching around Abbey Newton and Gabby Carlen's positions tonight:

"I think that we are going to continue to tweak the team and make adjustments according to our opponents and our personal. We are going to try to make sure that the matchups we have throughout the course of the game are the best matchups for us. Obviously, Abbey is as versatile as it gets and can play any position and as is Gabby. Being able to have this flexibility game to game, is very nice for us."

On utilizing the outside tonight and being able to take what the opponent gives you:

"This is the strategy we have had all season and many of the teams this year we played have played in the low block. As I have said before, it doesn't matter if it is South Alabama or Manchester City vs. Wolverhampton. It is hard to play against a group that is playing in a tight space. Tonight, I give South Alabama a ton of credit because they came in with a good game plan and good execution. With a little bit of luck, maybe the game could have come a little bit easier for us if we had a chance to finish more of our chances we had earlier. We scored an early goal, the rhythm of play was good for the most part from both the first and second half, and we minimized risk which is always part of it knowing they (South Alabama) were looking for (Briana) Morris, I think our team did pretty well."

Kristen McFarland

On scoring two goals tonight and her overall performance in the win:

"Obviously scoring two goals is pretty good, but I think collectively as a team we did a very good job capitalizing on those moments and the play together to find those opportunities. Yujie (Zhao) gave me those balls in perfect spots with great timing, and I just had to finish them. I think overall together it was a good performance."

Deyna Castellanos

On the rhythm she was in and getting a lot of open looks:

"I think I was in pretty good spots and getting looks at goals. Unfortunately, I was unable to finish them, but I feel like I had a pretty solid performance. The team did great, and that is all that matters."
