NOTING ACC BASEBALL

• Heading into the third week of the 2022 season, ACC teams own a combined 81-19 (.810) record against non-conference opposition. That includes a 65-4 mark thus far in home games. ACC teams were 28-3 at home versus non-league teams last weekend, including five series sweeps.

• Five ACC teams remain ranked among the nation's top 10 this week in at least one major poll, led by Notre Dame's No. 3 placement by Baseball America, which also ranked Virginia No. 5. NC State is ranked as high as No. 4 (USA Today Coaches and NCBWA), while Florida State (D1 Baseball) and Georgia Tech (Collegiate Baseball) each have one top-10 ranking.

• Eight ACC teams are ranked among the nation's top 30 by at least one publication, including the season debuts of No. 27 North Carolina and No. 29 Clemson in this week's NCBWA poll.

• Five from the conference were named National Players of the Week by Collegiate Baseball, including ACC Player of the Week Jake Gelof of Virginia and Pitcher of the Week Parker Messick of Florida State. They were joined by Georgia Tech catcher Kevin Parada, NC State first baseman Tommy White and Virginia Tech outfielder Jack Hurley.

• Clemson's 28-3 romp past Hartford in last Saturday's home series proved noteworthy on several levels. The Tigers scored in every inning in which they batted for the seventh time in history and the first time since 2011. Clemson's 28 runs were its most since scoring 41 in a game in 1979 and tied for the second-most runs in a game in school history. Every Tiger starter had at least one hit, as Clemson's 25 hits were its most in a game since 2006.

• The Clemson-Hartford game marked the sixth time in the still-young season that an ACC team has scored at least 20 runs in a single game.

• Florida State's left-handed pitching tandem of Bryce Hubbard and Parker Messick have been arguably the nation's best through the season's first two weekends. In their first two starts (23.2 total innings), the pair combined to allow a mere nine hits while walking two batters and striking out 46. A solo homer in the season opener versus James Madison accounted for the only run by the opposition during that stretch.

Virginia sophomore third baseman Jake Gelof and Florida State left-hander Parker Messick have been named the Atlantic Coast Conference Baseball Player and Pitcher of the Week for Feb. 28.

In four Virginia wins last week, Gelof went 9-for-10 (.900) with two doubles, a triple, four home runs and 15 RBI. He reached bases 13 times in four games and slugged 2.500 for the week.

In the series finale against Cornell on Sunday, Gelof hit for the cycle in just four at-bats and five innings played, becoming the first Cavalier to hit for the cycle in 21 years. In Friday's series opener against the Big Red, the Rehoboth Beach, Delaware, native smacked two homers and tallied eight RBI, the most by a Cavalier since 2013.

Messick allowed one hit with no walks while striking out a career-high 13 batters in seven innings in Friday night's 7-0 win over visiting Samford. The reigning ACC Pitcher and Freshman of the Year, Messick was dominant all evening, allowing just two baserunners – a first-inning single and a fifth-inning hit batter. In his final frame, Messick struck out the side on just 11 pitches. In his seven-inning stint, the Plant City, Florida, native threw just 85 pitches, with 63 strikes.

Opponents are hitting .073 against Messick in 12.2 innings pitched this year, and he has struck out a total of 24 batters while allowing just three hits.

ACC Baseball weekly honors are determined by a vote of a 15-member media panel and announced on Mondays throughout the regular season.
