NOTING ACC BASEBALL

• The first full weekend of ACC competition opens late this afternoon as Clemson and Louisville get their first taste of league play. The Tigers are set to play host to Miami in a matchup of ranked teams, while Louisville welcomes Notre Dame in a key early-season Atlantic Division series. Five other ACC series are on tap, including another intriguing Atlantic series between NC State and Florida State in Tallahassee. Coastal Division play is highlighted by a renewal of the Duke-North Carolina rivalry, as the defending ACC champion Blue Devils take on the Tar Heels at Durham Bulls Athletic Park.

• Notre Dame, off to a hot start for the third consecutive season under head coach Link Jarrett, entered the week ranked No. 1 nationally by both Baseball America and Perfect Game. Notre Dame is just the second team this season to rank No. 1 in the Baseball America poll. The Fighting Irish (12-1, 2-0 ACC) are off to their best start to the season since 2015 and are the top-ranked team in the country for the first time since 2001.

• Virginia is ranked as high as No. 5, Georgia Tech as high as No. 6, and Florida State is ranked No. 8 by both D1Baseball and Baseball America. Six teams – Notre Dame, Virginia, Georgia Tech, Florida State, Clemson and North Carolina – are consensus top-25 teams this week, and eight conference teams are ranked among the nation's top 30 in at least one of the six major national polls.

• ACC teams own a combined 148-43 (.775) record against non-conference opposition. That includes a 114-14 mark in home games.

• Notre Dame is 57-16 (.781) since the start of the 2020 season. That winning percentage ranks second in the NCAA over the past three seasons and trails only Tennessee (.792).

• The complete-game shutout by Virginia's Nate Savino in last weekend's ACC series versus Duke was only the sixth in collegiate play so far this season.

• With an ERA of 1.66, North Carolina has the lowest team ERA in country heading into the second weekend of ACC play ...The Tar Heels have the 14th-best strikeout to walk ratio (3.69) in D1 and rank 11th in fewest walks issued per nine innings (2.84) as well as 18th in fewest hits allowed per nine innings (6.57).

Louisville senior outfielder Levi Usher has been named the ACC Player of the Week, and Virginia junior left-hander Nate Savino earned ACC Pitcher of the Week honors.

ACC weekly baseball honors are determined by a vote of a select media panel and announced on Mondays throughout the regular season.

Usher, of Fairfax, Iowa, went 9-for-15 (.600) with two doubles, a triple, a home run, four runs scored and was 6-for-6 on stolen bases in Louisville's 3-1 week that included a victory over No. 15 TCU and a series win over visiting Michigan.

Usher drove in at least one run and had one stolen base in each of the Cardinals' four games. He had three hits in Sunday's win over Michigan, falling one double shy of hitting for the cycle.

Virginia's Savino needed just 103 pitches and struck out seven batters in a complete game, five-hit shutout in the series opener against Duke on Friday (March 11). The Sterling, Virginia, native did not allow a Duke batter to reach second base and finished his outing by retiring the final 10 batters he faced.

The nine-inning, complete-game shutout was the first by a UVA pitcher since Derek Casey against Virginia Tech in 2018. Including Savino's gem, six pitchers in college baseball this season have been credited with complete-game shutouts.
