NOTING ACC BASEBALL

- A full slate of three-game series again highlights the ACC weekend slate. Key division matchups include No. 13 Notre Dame at No. 5 Florida State, and No. 22 Georgia Tech at No. 2 Virginia.

- Eleven of the ACC's 14 baseball teams have been ranked nationally in at least one major poll this season. Virginia leads conference teams this week with a No. 2 ranking by Collegiate Baseball and is ranked among the nation's top four in each of the six major polls.

- This weekend's FSU-Notre Dame series will mark the return of Irish head coach Link Jarrett to his alma mater. Jarrett ranks first in the Seminole record book for consecutive games played for his career (235) and is second all-time in games played (276 from 1991-94). His 802 career assists as a second baseman are still an NCAA record.

- ACC teams won 13 of 15 midweek non-conference games and now stand 172-49 (.778) this season versus opponents outside the conference, including a 129-19 mark in home games. ACC teams were equally impressive away from home this week, going 6-0 in true road games. ACC road wins included Clemson at Winthrop, which marked the 500th career victory for Tigers' head coach Monte Lee, and NC State at East Carolina.

- North Carolina (21) and Virginia (19) own two of the nation's three longest active home-field winning streaks dating to last season. Among NCAA Division I teams, only top-ranked Tennessee (25 consecutive home wins) boasts a longer current streak than the Tar Heels or Cavaliers. Virginia's streak eclipses the former program record of 18 consecutive home wins set by the 2008 squad.

- By sweeping each of its first two conference weekend series, Louisville matched the 2017 team for the program's best start in ACC play since joining the league in 2015. The Cardinals (20-5 overall) joined Virginia (23-2) this week as the first two ACC teams to reach the 20-win plateau in 2022.

- The Red Sox have announced the return of Boston College's ALS Awareness Game to Fenway Park on Saturday, April 23, at 6 p.m., when the team will face Virginia Tech. The annual game has been played in honor of former Boston College baseball captain Pete Frates since his ALS diagnosis in 2012. This year marks its third time being played at Fenway Park. Frates passed away in 2019 at the age of 34. The game will be televised on the ACC Network.

Louisville senior third baseman Ben Metzinger has been named the Atlantic Coast Conference Baseball Player of the Week, while Florida State sophomore lefthander Parker Messick earned ACC Pitcher of the Week honors for the second time this season.

ACC baseball weekly honors are determined by a vote of a select media panel and announced on Mondays throughout the regular season.

Metzinger hit .471 (9-for-19) in the Cardinals' 3-1 week that included an ACC three-game series road sweep of Boston College. The Louisville native scored eight runs while driving in five for the week, including a home run in game 1 of the Boston College series and a 3-for-4 effort that included a double in game 2.

Metzinger also stole four bases in the four games as Louisville improved to 6-0 in ACC play and remained atop the early Atlantic Division standings.

Messick allowed four hits while striking out a career-high 14 batters in seven innings as the Seminoles blanked visiting Duke 4-0 in Friday night's ACC series opener. Messick issued just two walks and matched the ACC high for strikeouts in a single game this season.

A native of Plant City, Florida, Messick (4-1) currently ranks second in NCAA Division I with 65 strikeouts in 38 innings pitched this season, one strikeout behind the national leader.
